InTheDays.com

In the Days is a ministry of Maranatha International, dedicated to getting the Word of God out to the general public through any means possible. This web site has been set up to keep the believers' eyes looking up. We believe that the coming of the Lord Jesus is eminent and that the believer is warned to be ready. We believe the scriptures contained a road map that led the seeker to the birth of Christ. Therefore, we are confident that the second coming is mapped out the same way for believers. Here at In the Days, we are searching the world's news for information that matches up with the signs foretold in the scriptures and listing them by category. Our desire is to equip the saints with information that will enable them to be a more accurate witness for Jesus
